

Romy Pickron, a Premier Relationship Manager with Wells Fargo in Washington, D.C., and a new member of AAAA and has been selected as the winner of the 2017 CFP® Certification Scholarship offered through the College for Financial Planning. In her role at Wells Fargo, Romy manages premier and household portfolios through cross-selling to broaden and deepen existing and prospective client relationships and loyalty.

The College for Financial Planning invests in advancing diversity within the financial planning profession by providing a scholarship to complete the educational requirements to qualify and sit for the Certified Financial Planner™ examination. This Professional Education Program Scholarship is specifically for African American financial advisors. Hyacinth Henderson, of The Henderson Financial Group, Miami Lakes, FL and a AAAA member was the first scholarship recipient in 2016. The scholarship is awarded to an individual exhibiting the best combination of dedication to advancing the financial planning industry, leadership in the community, and leadership in the Association of African American Financial Advisors (AAAA). The scholarship covers all costs associated with enrollment in the College's CFP® Certification Professional Education Program.
